News That Peace Is Declared Causes Russian And Japanese Bonds To Go Up--Japan Deserves Credit.

TERMS OF PEACE.

Recognition by Russia of the preponderance of Japan in Korea.

Evacuation of Manchuria by both Russia and Japan; two articles to be incorporated into one.

Transfer to Japan of the lease of Liaoyang, including Port Arthur.

Recognition of the territorial integrity of China, including Manchuria, and observance of the principle of equality of opportunity.

Transfer to China by arrangement with Japan of the branch of the Chinese Eastern railroad, running south from Harbin to Port Arthur and Neuchwang, together with the retrocession of all the privileges obtained under the concession of 1898.

Restoration by Russia of Chinese sovereignty and civil administration in Manchuria.

Interned Russian warships to be retained by Russia.

No indemnity to be paid by Russia, only cost of caring for prisoners being met.

Russia to have half of Sakhalin Island.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIBNER'S.]

Portsmouth, Aug. 30.—There is a growing suspicion here that Russia is to pay Japan a sum of money for some unknown purpose, in lieu of a cash indemnity. Much secrecy is maintained about certain points. It is believed the indemnity lies concealed in the traffic arrangements made yesterday for through service on the Chinese Eastern railway and the Siberian railway. Such concession to commercial Russia is of such value that Russia is naturally willing to pay handsomely.

London's Ideas

London, Aug. 30.—It is estimated here the Japanese will receive about two hundred million as reimbursement for the care of the Russian prisoners and the railroad concessions.

No Conference

Portsmouth, Aug. 30.—There will be no meeting of the peace conference today. When the adjournment was taken yesterday no time was set for the next meeting.

Stocks Going Up

London, Aug. 30.—All stocks are advancing. The Russian bonds jumped this morning 3% points. The Japanese advanced from a half to two points.

MADISON THIS TIME

A. T. Moreaux, Who Had Dealings with Janesville Merchants Is Under Arrest.

In last evening's issue of the Wisconsin State Journal the following item relative to A. T. Moreaux, a representative of the Sprague Collection agency of Chicago, is printed. Mr. Moreaux will be remembered as the gentleman who some time ago obtained two promissory notes from Janesville merchants, sold them to a third merchant and was arrested and later released:

"A. T. Moreaux of Chicago, said to be a representative of the Sprague Commercial agency of Chicago, who has been working about Stoughton, was brought into court charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. The complainant alleges that the defendant obtained money due the Stoughton bank on the pretense that he was a state bank examiner. Complaint is made by Aske A. Thorsen. The amount in question is for $10,000 promissory note on stocks of the Wheeler Prairie Farmers' Co-operative company. He was placed under bonds of $600 which were signed by parties in Stoughton. The preliminary hearing was set for September 18, at 2 o'clock. Moreaux is a young man about thirty years old and of swarthy complexion. He was represented in court this morning by Attorney J. M. Clancy of Stoughton."

GRAND JURY IS TO BRING INDICTMENTS

One or Possibly More Persons Are Sure to Suffer for Leak of Cotton Statistics.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., August 30.—It appears certain now that one or possibly more indictments will be found by the Federal Grand Jury against the officials of the Department of Agriculture, who were concerned in the manipulation of cotton reports. A week ago it looked as if the present inquiry would fall to the ground for lack of evidence, but it is now stated emphatically that the recent activity of District Attorney will bear results. The investigations inaugurated by Beach into the financial affairs of John Hyde and Holmes has been continued among the safe deposit boxes of the city. The officials of these institutions have as a rule refused to give any information whatever, relative to the accounts of either Hyde or Holmes. As it is therefore, it is expected that some of these officials will be summoned before the grand jury.

Roosevelt Is Passive

Oyster Bay, Aug. 30.—Realizing a mistake might now easily upset the delicate situation and spoil all chances of peace which are now otherwise assured, the President is very careful in his statements. Likely he will entertain the envoys at Sagamore Hill before they leave. In order to avoid a possible unpleasantness he will probably entertain the Russians one day and the Japanese another.

At 2 o'clock this morning William Jennings Bryan, driven overland in a carriage from Ft. Atkinson where he delivered an address last evening, following a speech at the Rockford Chautauqua yesterday afternoon, arrived in Janesville to keep a business appointment with Thomas S. Nolan, one of the officers of the Janesville Cement Post Co. Word that he was coming was noised about the Myers House and about a dozen were there to greet him when the carriage arrived. Watchman Paddy McGinley was one of those with whom the great democratic leader shook hands warmly. Col. Bryan expressed himself as well pleased with the good prospects of peace between Russia and Japan. After a short consultation with Mr. Nolan he gave an order for a carload of cement-posts, including 400 five posts, 12 gate posts, 14 corner, and 28 intermediates, to be shipped as soon as possible to his Nebraska farm. When he retired it was with instructions to call him at 4:30 a. m. at which time this morning he left Janesville for Chicago.

DOUMA DENOUNCED IN MOSCOW TODAY

Riotous Meeting of the Masses Was Calmed by Prince Galitzin, the Mayor.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Moscow, August 30.—At a public meeting held here, the Emperor's manifesto on the douma subject was discussed. One speaker denounced the manifesto and the project in violent terms, another urged armed rebellion. Municipal officials later entered the hall and the Mayor, Prince Galitzin, made a speech, after which a resolution was adopted, which declared that the meeting attached great value to the constitution of the douma, as the first step toward the participation of the public in the work of legislation, but that it fully realized that a national government was possible only on the condition that the Russian people be given immediately all rights, freedom of the press, freedom of speech and meeting, and inviolability of person, and urged that changes be made based on the principle of universal suffrage in order to restore the complete calm of the country. This action of the meeting was greeted with applause. There are few dissentients.

Yellow Fever Breaks Out In Pensacola... Illinois Makes Stringent Rules.

NEW ORLEANS MORE HOPEFUL NOW

Situation In The City Has Improved, And The End Of The Epidemic Is Expected At Any Time.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIBNER'S.]

Washington, Aug. 30.—The marine hospital service has confirmed the report that yellow fever exists in Pensacola. The three cases are all convalescent. The surgeon general of the army has been notified by the surgeon of the post at Barrancas, Fla., that the mayor of Pensacola has officially announced yellow fever has broken out there.

Vicksburg

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 30.—Three cases of yellow fever were discovered in Vicksburg today. There is no fear of a spread being entertained. The governor has ordered Colonel Montgomery to take troops and patrol the entire river front and prevent refugees from Louisiana from entering the state. Montgomery is empowered to call out as many men as he thinks necessary.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 30.—At a meeting of the board of health it was decided to add more inspectors to the force and thus prevent any possibility of any one slipping through the lines. A large number of persons were turned back because they were not supplied with permits and a number of arrests were made. The board of health ordered the removal of all slaughter pens from the city limits.

Official announcement that the cases under treatment at Natchez have been diagnosed as yellow fever was coupled with a request to Dr. White to send a representative to that city. Dr. White decided to send Dr. Gutierrez, and he will be sent on his return from his present trip. Assistant Surgeon Goldsberger will accompany him.

Natchez Has Yellow Fever.

Natchez, Miss., Aug. 30.—Dr. Eugene Wasdin of the marine hospital service, after a careful study of suspicious patients pronounced nine yellow fever and five suspicious. Seven of the pronounced cases are negroes, and all are within a radius of a few blocks in the city.

Three Cases at Pensacola.

Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 30.—Dr. J. Y. Porter, state health officer, has issued a card to the public, in which he says that three Greeks with symptoms of yellow fever have been found in Pensacola. It is not known how these men took the disease; as it is asserted that none of them has been out of the city for two months.

THERE IS STILL DISORDER
IN THE PHILIPPINES TODAY

General Carter In His Report Tells Of Various Outbreaks Throughout The Islands.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIBNER'S.]

Washington, Aug. 30.—Brigadier General William H. Carter, U. S. A., commanding the department of the Visayas in the Philippine division, in his annual report says that owing to pestilential disorders a large number of stations previously abandoned have been reoccupied by troops. Starting as far back as July 21, 1904, there were disorders in all the large islands of the department, Negros, Panay, Cebu and Leyte, and sixteen companies of the Twelfth and Fourteenth infantries were distributed about the disaffected coasts. The native element still fears to engage in any settled business out of sight of the towns. The principal leader of the Pulaján movement, Enrique Dagubón, was finally killed and the organized revolt was thereby broken.

The Spanish custom of calling upon presidents to furnish "cargadores" for the public service has been abolished and now people are paid a fixed rate for that work.

Gen. Carter recommends that the matter of the payment of the various small amounts due to former occupants of military reservations in the Philippine Islands be laid before congress.

ers with the agents of the large foreign commercial houses which practically control the market. This cause of discontent, the report says, will exist so long as the presidents continue to serve as business agents of firms whose interests lie in securing hemp at the lowest price and selling rice at a correspondingly exorbitant figure.

The only relief lies in the development of competition. The revolt was not a political outbreak, but was chiefly a war between several of the native chiefs.

The Spanish custom of calling upon presidents to furnish "cargadores" for the public service has been abolished and now people are paid a fixed rate for that work.

Gen. Carter suggests that the principal reason for discontent was the dissatisfaction of native hemp workers.

ANOTHER PHASE OF THE SCANDAL

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE ON TOBACCO DUTY LEAK.

EXCLUSIVE INFORMATION

What Steps the Government Is Taking To Bring About an Investigation.

(By William Wolff Smith.)

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., August 30.—There are so many ramifications in the tobacco business that are not understood by outsiders that it is small wonder there was a disposition to question the startling statements exclusively made in this correspondence with those unfamiliar with the situation. The fact that thousands of pounds of tobacco could be slipped through the Tampa customs house in one shipment on the payment of 28 cents per pound duty, instead of $1.48 per pound, came as a revelation to those who had not followed the matter for years, waiting for a favorable opportunity to demonstrate to the authorities the truth of the charge that the government is being defrauded. Moreover, a man alleging he represented the ostensible consignees, learned the Treasury experts were making the re-examination and ordered them to desist on the ground the tobacco had been cleared through the customs house and was stored in a "free" and not a "bonded" warehouse. At this Inspector Norton declared that if the examination were interfered with, he would immediately seize the entire shipment, whereupon the consignee's representative hastily left. In this connection it may be said that Inspector Norton has been handling tobacco on the past fifteen years and is thoroughly familiar with the situation and the tricks employed to pass a million and a half pounds of wrapper tobacco yearly on the payment of duty on forty thousand pounds.

FARM WORK DELAYED BY THE HEAVY RAINS

Stacking and Threshing of Grains and Plowing Has Been Retarded to Some Extent.

United States Department of Agriculture Climate and Crop bulletin for the week ending Monday, August 28.—Heavy rains over the central and most portions of the southern section, and especially in the west-central portion of the state, have materially retarded the stacking and threshing of grains and delayed fall plowing.

In some sections, however, the work has been pushed rapidly and is nearing completion, while considerable advance has been made in plowing; in a few localities the ground is, in fact, too hard for cultivation.

The continued high daily temperature has hastened the ripening of corn and this with the local rain in some localities has been beneficial to tobacco and pastures. Local hailstorms have occurred during the week but no damage resulted. Harvesting is now completed and the yields from the localities importers through the port of New York to the limit of endurance. One dealer, formerly distinguished in the trade, informed me that he had been driven from the business because of the conditions prevailing. "I could not stand them any longer," he said. "If the tobacco co passed as filler the manufacturers wanted it all at filler prices; if it was classified as wrapper, and full wrapper duty was levied, they laughed at the idea of paying full wrapper duty on a bale that might contain only twenty per cent wrapper tobacco, and I had to ship to Canada to get it, or send it back to Cuba for repacking." Other dealers, frankly stated they were in this position; if they did not do all they could to get their tobacco in as filler they could not compete with houses that did and they were confronted with the alternative of doing so or going out of business. The magnitude of the case may be realized when it is said that the amount of wrapper tobacco necessary to wrap four hundred million "clear Havana" cigars made in this country yearly, is approximately 1,600,000 pounds, on which the duty as wrapper tobacco would amount to more than two million dollars in addition to the filler duty, and yet the importation of wrapper tobacco for the fiscal year of July, 1904, amounted to only 42,000 pounds. In other words, the duty paid on wrapper tobacco from Havana in that fiscal year was less than $100,000 where it should have been $2,000,000! The figures for 1905 are not available.

The Seizure

In the case of the 108 bales seized in New York I found that the examination at Tampa showed six "wrapper bales," 29 "percentage bales" and the remainder, 73 bales, strictly "filler bales."

A "wrapper bale" contains more than fifteen per cent wrapper leaf and must pay the full wrapper duty of $1.48 less twenty eight cent on account of the Cuban treaty. A "percentage bale" contains some wrapper leaf but less than fifteen per cent and pays wrapper duty only on the amount of wrapper tobacco it contains. A "filler bale" contains no wrapper leaf.

When the New York experts got through with the examination they found instead of six "wrapper bales" there were approximately fifty; instead of twenty-nine "percentage bales" there were about fifty and instead of 73 "filler bales" there were not more than eight or ten. In order to make sure of the facts two representative leaf dealers, men high in the trade and recognized as experts, were requested by the Treasury authorities to assist Inspector Norton in making the re-examination, so there can be no doubt the new classification will stand. As soon as their report was received by the New York authorities the tobacco was seized. What the outcome will be is problematical. The owners may forfeit it to the government or may fight the case in the courts.

A Gross "Mistake"

It is expected the Tampa inspectors who made the first examination will be promptly removed for the trade in New York considers it absolutely impossible for an expert to make such a gross "mistake," even if highly competent. An inspector who cannot find more than six bales of wrapper tobacco in a shipment containing fifty such bales is not a good man for the Treasury service, to say the least, as this one error, if it had not been brought to the attention of the department by the U. S. Tobacco Journal would have cost the government $1,000 or $5,000.

Much Speculation

There is much speculation in New York as to what cigar manufacturer cannot find more than six bales of wrapper tobacco in a shipment containing fifty such bales is not a good man for the Treasury service, to say the least, as this one error, if it had not been brought to the attention of the department by the U. S. Tobacco Journal would have cost the government $1,000 or $5,000.

FASHION NOTES

All of the fabrics for fall wear lend themselves to stitching, strapping and battenment effects. A striking example is shown in a street costume of blue etamine. The strappings of taffeta are placed very near together and fill the outlined battenments to the very center. The rather long skirt has these battenment effects around the flaring bottom and many more outlining long panels from the waistline to the lower row of battenments.

Wait Results
When I left New York the trade was anxiously awaiting further intelligence from Washington as to whether the firm in question would be prosecuted. What makes the case more serious is that, so I am informed, the tobacco was packed in a manner indicating an attempt had been made to conceal its true character. That is to say, the filler tobacco was packed in the portion of the bale most likely to be examined, by the inspectors, and the wrapper tobacco put in another portion where it would not likely be disturbed. This, it is said, could scarcely have been done accidentally, and will have a strong bearing on the case if the authorities prosecute. Moreover, a man alleging he represented the ostensible consignees, learned the Treasury experts were making the re-examination and ordered them to desist on the ground the tobacco had been cleared through the customs house and was stored in a "free" and not a "bonded" warehouse.

At this Inspector Norton declared that if the examination were interfered with, he would immediately seize the entire shipment, whereupon the consignee's representative hastily left. Corn continues to make a rapid advance. On low, wet ground the crop is slightly backward while on the uplands it is more matured. The high temperature has been very favorable for the crop but the nights have been much too cool. The earliest planted will be practically out of danger by Sept. 4th or 5th and in the southern counties the reports show that it has now passed the milk stage.

In the middle and northern sections the crop will be free from frost generally by the 15th of Sept., some late planted will require a few days more.

From special reports received from correspondents from all sections the consensus of opinion is, that on drained and uplands and northern sections it will require 5 to 10 days additional to insure it against frost. The average date of killing frost in the northern section is about Sept. 15th and in the southern section about Sept. 20. A continuation of the past favorable weather for about two weeks will practically insure the safety of the entire crop.

Wheat and rye threshing continues slowly being retarded by the continuing heavy rains; the yields for these grains on the uplands is very satisfactory; on lowlands where lodged and tangled the yields are not so favorable, but on the whole the grain is sound and of good quality.

Oats and barley stacking and threshing also delayed by rain. In some sections are reported as sprouting in the shock and some serious damage will result.

The grain where heavy in the stand yields favorably, where light the deficiency in yield is made up by a good quality of grain.

Buckwheat is reported as an excellent crop and some fields are in full bloom.

The potato crop is badly injured from excessive moisture. The upland crop is in fair to good condition but on low ground they are rotting rapidly and reports show that in some instances entire fields are a total failure; on the whole the outlook for even a fair yield is very unsatisfactory.

Pastures continue excellent except in a few localities. Second crop clover is good.

The tobacco crop is in excellent condition and is being well secured. No great damage resulted from hailstorms except in limited sections, and this is now thought to be slight.

Hops are abundant and picking will begin Sept. 1st.

Sugar beets very satisfactory, but meas are damaged by too much moisture.

Apples, except a few varieties, are unsatisfactory.

Cranberries: "Cranmoor, Wood County; favorable conditions prevail during the week, and crop is ripening under satisfactory circumstances of heat and moisture.—W. H. Fitch."

Accompanying the skirt is an Eton, little longer than the design which we usually note, quite as elaborately trimmed with the silk strappings. The fronts are short and open to show a white silk embroidered underbodice. The sleeves have rather full puffs below the elbows and the bands that serve as puffs have open English embroidery in leaf design as a trimming.

In the province of the tailored bohème the bohème is, of course, to be seriously considered, but it occupies a place less prominent than that accorded to it in other fields and some of the couturières are trying to discover its use entirely.

Wherever the figure permits it, the woman aspiring to be well-dressed, should include a princess gown in her wardrobe, and it should be made of a fabric that is accommodating to stitched effects. Next to the bona fide article, the tailored suits in effect are charming. A smart design in black and white mixture shot with green has the skirt shaped above the waistline to meet the well-fitting bohème. It is not a plated skirt, but is gored to give fullness at the bottom where it is stiffened. Each of the skirt seams has a simulated sash running up several inches, piped with black, and this fold outlined at the inside by a line of dark green braid and a line of small, flat, buttons, the buttons being along the centre part of the seam.

The bohème jacket is cut out square at the top, with a flat yoke piece of white cloth inserted under it; this yoke piece is rounded at the top and finished with white silk braid. Where the cloth laps over the yoke it is finished by a fold of black and then a line of green soutache braid to match the skirt.

Many of the newest jackets are trimmed with revers in contrasting colors or embroidery, but upon others the revers are plain or heavily embroidered in self-tone.

Quite a stunning gown for any dressy occasion is developed in current red cloth and consists of two pieces—skirt and bodice. It is trimmed artistically with black mole silk cut out in battenment design and stitched upon both the skirt and bodice. The new style sleeve is tight fitting below a drapery at the shoulder and slashed at the elbow to admit a cascade of pure white lace of Alençon pattern. The skirt has the effect of a double skirt, obtained by an arrow front which is draped at each side and fastened with little knots of black silk.

Inexpensive frocks of soft wool material are daintily trimmed with plain silk or checked silk ribbon, without adding much to the cost of the design. Especially attractive is a semi-dressy model in dark brown nun's veiling which has the skirt laid in white ticks about the waistline, the tick being stitched down closely on either side. The bottom is finished with a deep hem above which is a band of checked silk ribbon in two shades of brown and white, outlined with brown silk braid.

The bodice is tight-fitting, blousing slightly over a deep girdle of brown silk piped with the ribbon. At the back it is laid in the narrow stitched tucks which trim the upper portion of the skirt. At the front, starting at the shoulders and meeting transversely at the bustline, there are slashes, outlined with brown silk and through these are laced the ribbon which meets and is tied in a sailor knot. The neck is cut out round, but very shallow and shows a tiny yoke and collar of all-over lace whose designs are outlined with brown silk threads.

A brown hat with shaded ribbon and a bird of Paradise completes the costume.

Forty Years Ago.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, August 30, 1865.—Personal—it is with considerable emotion under the waistband of our trousers, that we announce, that Mr. Chamberlain of the Milwaukee Sentinel, who wrote home such a doleful account of sickness among the children of Janesville, has got a similar complaint himself and is lying in a very bad way. His has passed nothing but Rock River water since his return to Milwaukee and his physicians can't stop it. That's the river is so low. The doctors tried to have him pass a larger beer saloon the other day, but they couldn't do it.

Mr. Chamberlain!

Town Talk.—The card of the Secretary of the Firemen's Association, giving the reasons for the failure of the tournament, is naturally the "town talk" and the people of Janesville are anxious to know just how far the hotel keepers are going to carry this thing. Citizens here who are interested in the success and prosperity of the town, have a right to know whether strangers are to be charged an exorbitant rate on public days, or whether they are to be treated fairly and honorably as to hotel charges. Some of our exchanges have already copied the Secretary's letter, or that part of it which makes it look as the tournament failed because the companies could not get entertainment at a living rate, and other papers will do the same. The effect will not be beneficial upon the State Fair unless something is done to counteract it.

We have in this city more good hotels than in any place of its size in the state, and we know that their charges are not higher ordinarily than at hotel charges at other points where like accommodations are furnished, but what they do on public days we do not know, but would like to find out. We offer them the free use of these columns to state to the public what will be their charges per day for board, during the coming State Fair. All interested in the success of the Fair, have a right to know.

Normal School Meeting.

The citizens held another meeting last night in reference to the State Normal School.

Mr. Dehorn called the meeting to order, and on its motion Mr. Hughes was elected chairman and Mr. George Wells secretary.

The Committee appointed at the last meeting to examine the Academy building, reported by the Chairman, Mr. Tallman, that it would not be worth while to tender the building to the State, but recommended that one-half the high school building be offered, reserving the basement.

Mr. Dehorn moved that the High School building with the exception of the basement, be offered to the Regent on the condition that they establish but one school and that one here. Mr. M. C. Smith moved to amend the former motion by requesting the Council to tender the High School Building without reservation to the State on the payment of ten thousand dollars, provided only one school is established, and if more than one then the State pay twenty thousand dollars. The amendment was adopted, and on motion of Mr. Merrill, Messrs. Tallman and Lawrence were appointed a committee to lay the action of this meeting before the Common Council. On motion adjourned.

GEORGE R. PECK.

George R. Peck, a former Janesville resident and a member of the Rock County Bar, has been raised to an exalted position by his fellow attorneys. His friends in Janesville rejoice in his rise to prominence and position and it is with pleasure that The Gazette reprints an editorial from the Milwaukee Sentinel which follows. Mr. Peck deserves everything he has obtained. The Sentinel says:

George R. Peck of Chicago, lawyer, scholar, orator, gentleman, has been elected president of the American Bar association. Roswell Field, in an article printed in the Chicago Evening Post, quotes a remark made by a friend of Mr. Peck, when he heard the news: "Inasmuch as George's name was mentioned," said the man quoted, "I do not see how it could have been possible to elect anybody else." Still another of Mr. Peck's friends, himself a distinguished lawyer, is reported to have said: "I do not know which I would rather have, Peck's brains or his popularity; he is the only man I know who has both to so great an extent."

The secret of George R. Peck's popularity is probably to be found in his genuineness. His standing in the profession and his station in life have changed since he was a poor, struggling lawyer in Kansas, but he is the same George R. Peck that was then, and he will continue to the end as he began, a wholesome, large hearted, genuine man, one of the exceptions that add emphasis to the littleness of those who people Vanity Fair.

Mr. Peck's many friends in Wisconsin will learn with satisfaction of the honor that has been bestowed upon him. Their friendship for him is shown by the heartiness with which he is received whenever he avails himself of the "open door" privilege of the "open door" people. He is a man of wit and wisdom whom it does one good to meet.

RAILWAY REGULATION.

In this day of open revolt against the customs and usages of mankind and particularly the railroads, the nation makers, it is interesting to note what a typical railway man has to say regarding government railway regulation. Governor La Follette has taken his stand, the impracticable dreamer's view, no S. M. Folton, president of the Alton railway steps to the front with his reasoning, the result of years of close application to the subject from a business standpoint not a political harangue to catch the ears of the public and make them believe the whole nation is going to the eternal bow wows. He says:

That some form of governmental regulation of railway rates is thought necessary may be readily admitted. We have it now and always have had it to the extent that common carriers are required under the common law to give the public reasonable rates. An enforcement of existing laws would insure this without a pen-scratch of new legislation.

What is known as the interstate commerce law (the act to regulate commerce) is, as I understand it, a mere extension and statutory expression of the common law regulating a great public service, and the amazing prosperity of the United States today is the best proof that the public service rendered by the railroads fulfills its mission of transporting the people and commodities of the republic in a manner adequate to the exacting demands made on them.

Such prosperity as we are now enjoying would be impossible if the railways to any appreciable extent were guilty of imposing onerous or unjust burdens on the interstate commerce of the United States.

No governmental made rates could possibly be adjusted to the varied conditions and necessities of the republic with anything like the efficiency of the present tariffs. Under these the interstate commerce of the United States is the marvel and envy of those countries struggling along under the rigid yoke of governmental ownership or government-made railway rates.

Having acknowledged so much, that the Esch-Townsend bill is unjust to the railways, may we of the railway world, embracing over 1,200,000 American citizens in our direct service, not ask you to examine more closely into the question of placing the authority over rates in the hands of a commission not responsible to anybody for the character of that service or the compensation of both the labor and the capital employed in providing it.

The people are intent on the abolition of the abuses in railway transportation, but its advocates for some reason avoid any legislation to bring these abuses within the prohibitions of existing laws.

WAR FOR MONEY.

Supposing that Russia and Japan had agreed upon every essential condition of peace except that of indemnity, and, disagreeing upon that, went to war again. That would be a war over money. Would the world have stood for such a thing as that? And ought it to stand for a war waged on such a sordid issue? What are $500,000 more or less as compared with the thousands of lives which would be sacrificed by a continuance of the conflict? A war for defense of liberty; a war for an open door; a war for expansion when expansion means increased opportunities for civilization and advancement; but a war for money—that would have a very ugly look indeed.

TRUE DIPLOMACY.

Whipped and beaten by land and sea Russia has won a victory over Japan at the Portsmouth peace conference that is to be marveled at. Still the conflict belongs with Japan. This victorious little nation has won a great victory in the eyes of the world by being merciful in their hour of victory. Japan has shown itself a nation among nations. Justice and mercy have been shown the conquered. All hail to the little Japanese empire.

CARNIVAL GRANTED USE OF HIGHWAYS

At Special Meeting of City Council Last Evening—Two Aldermen Opposed to It.

At a special meeting of the city council called at five o'clock yesterday afternoon the Federated Trades' Council was granted the use of the streets under the supervision of the mayor and city marshal, on Monday, and the same privilege was extended to the Ferari Bros. Carnival Co. for the week, commencing Monday evening. J. J. Cunningham, representing the Janesville Acme of Eagles, addressed the aldermen, stating that if the carnival came here it would be under the direct supervision of that fraternal body; that a careful investigation had been made before the undertaking had been sanctioned; and that it had been found that creditable entertainments had been given in La Crosse, Eau Claire, Milwaukee, Madison, Decatur, and Rockford. With regard to the character of the carnival given here a few years ago he would say nothing to impeach the management of that company or its auspices. Many business interests would be benefited directly and all would gain indirectly, in his opinion, if such an attraction as the one in question were brought here. The Eagles could be relied upon to see to it that there was no rowdiness or ruffianism. The show properly amounted to 28 carloads and there were from 270 to 275 people.

Hardy Talks

Mr. Hardy, representing the shows, said that the streets would not be blocked. Room would be left in every case for the passage of ordinary vehicles and the fire department. No snake-eaters or dancing girls were included in the shows. All the attractions were given back of wooden wagon fronts. The management would like to place these on the intersections of Milwaukee street from the Myers theatre to a block or two below the Grand Hotel.

Burpee's Opinion

Alderman Fish asked if, after the council had granted the use of the streets, a merchant could prevent a tent from being pitched in front of his store. City Attorney Burpee said that he certainly could. The council could only suspend the ordinance governing streets for the time being and the individual merchant and the Carnival Co. were left to settle the matter between themselves. In answer to a question Mr. Hardy said the space occupied by the largest show—the animal exhibition—was 60x20 feet. Ald. Baumann asked who would look after the cleaning up after the shows had gone and Mayor Hutchinson said that the city would have to do it. Mr. Cunningham stated that the Eagles would stand good for any extra expense to the city in fixing up the streets. Mayor Hutchinson replied that there was no question but that the city of Janesville would have to repair its own streets, whoever guaranteed it.

SUSPENDED LICENSE FEE

Ald. Merritt asked if any license fee would be exacted and Ald. Burpee replied that this question was up to the council. Ald. Merritt said that he would have liked to have heard an expression from some of the business men before deciding the matter. Ald. Dulm said that as he understood the concession was not being granted to the Carnival Co. but to the Eagles. On motion of Ald. Connell the privilege was extended, the collection of license money being suspended, by a vote of 7 to 2, Aldermen Merritt and Hager registering negatives. Ald. Jackson, being out of the city, was not present at the session.

Start a Turtle Farm.

As there seems to be so much anxiety about the turtles, why don't some one fence off some salt water and start a turtle farm? There are terrapin farms; then why not loggerhead farms; the eggs are easy to hatch and the turtles would not be subjected to jiggers and scorpions like chickens, and as the wild turtles are about to be exterminated, the tame ones would bring good prices.—Sarasota (Fla.) ## INFLUX OF THE CAMPERS BEGINS

BUSY SCENES AT ADVENTISTS' CONFERENCE GROUNDS TODAY.

OPENING SERVICE TONIGHT

Will Be Commencement of Notable Religious Gathering—Large Crowd Expected.

Scores of Seventh day Adventists arrived on every incoming train today for the opening service of their thirty-sixth annual state conference and camp meeting, which will take place on the tented grounds in Palmer's Grove on Washington street this evening. Great numbers came from all directions and the influx of campers is not expected to cease until next Tuesday. Excursion rates to Janesville have been granted on every road in Wisconsin and the tickets coming are good until that time.

The scene at the grounds was a busy one today. Between two and three hundred people will have ar-

SCHALLER DEFEATED BY LEO BROWNELL

In the Finals for the Richardson Meda at Golf Links Yesterday Afternoon.

Leo Brownell defeated Al Schaller 3 up and 2 to play in the finals for the Richardson trophy at the golf links yesterday afternoon. The victory was a decisive one inasmuch as Brownell's margin was larger than his handicap of four. He played nine holes in 37—two better than bogey, and the second round in 41. Schaller played both rounds in 41. While the score was a surprise to the spectators, the victory was not entirely unexpected, as the winner has been showing remarkable form of late and has beaten the crack player, who was his antagonist yesterday, without any handicap on one or two occasions recently. In order to hold the Richardson medal in permanent possession it must be won twice by the same person. The victories need not be consecutive. In the ladies' contest for the Missfield trophy Mrs. Harris defeated Elisabeth Schicker 5 up and 4 to play. A contest for others who have never made the course in less than 50 will be inaugurated in the near future. Next Tuesday play

ST. ALOYSIUS BOYS HAD FINE OUTING

Athletic Contests Were Feature of Picnic at Yost's Park Yesterday.

One hundred and ten boys, members of St. Aloysius' society of St. Patrick's church, in charge of Rev. Fr. J. J. McGinnity, enjoyed their annual outing at Yost's Park yesterday. The baseball game which furnished one of the exciting features of the day's entertainment was won by the Fourth Ward nine, which defeated a team composed of representatives from the balance of Rock county by the score of 4 to 2. Devins and Maden composed the battery for the Fourth Warders and Joyce and Bresnahan held the two important positions down for the Rock County nine. The winning team very generously divided the twenty watermelons offered as a prize with the vanquished and the spectators. The footraces were won by Charles Connors, James McCaffrey, and Harold Schleier. John Devins took the high jump; Frank McCaffrey, the broad jump; "Babe" Sullivan, the four-legged race; and Harry Siegel, the swimming contest. After a thoroughly delightful day the party returned in their two special

THANK YOU," SAY SMOKERS

All Who Love a Cigar Appreciate Smith Drug Co.'s Introduction of Chicos.

It is reported that the smokers in Janesville are going to present a testimonial to Smith Drug Co. for assuming the agency of Wadsworth Bros.' Chicos, a high grade Havana filled cigar that sells for a nickel.

Smith Drug Co. say they are perfectly satisfied, though, with the appreciative "thank you's" they have had from smokers of a good cigar to whom they have recommended the Chicos. It is one of the best smokers in their show case, and sells at a price so low that any one can afford to smoke it.

The price, however, is not the reason why our leading lawyers, bankers and business men call for the Chicos. They buy it and smoke it because it is a good cigar. Try one yourself and join the Chico Club.

HARDY TALKS OF CARNIVAL SHOWS

REPRESENTATIVES OF FERARI BROTHERS ON EXHIBITIONS.

"WILD ANIMAL" A FEATURE

Scores of Fierce Beasts and Queer Byhybrids—Great Free Sess-sations.

As much as the Council has granted to the Janesville Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles the privilege of using the streets next week for the purpose of a carnival, active preparations for the event are now in full swing and everything promises a gay period of six days that will be enjoyed by hundreds of Janesville and out-of-town people. The celebration will be one of the greatest this city has ever witnessed and in speaking of the affair, Mr. Hardy, representative of the Ferari Brothers' shows, the entertainment that will be furnished, said:

"Monday, next, the week of the Eagles' big free street carnival will be ushered in with an array of attractions and splendid shows such as has never been seen in Janesville, which is saying a great deal, but not more than deserving it even one-half of the accounts are true from other cities where the Ferari Bros.' shows united, which furnish the amusements, have visited in the past few weeks. The press of Milwaukee, Winnipeg, Grand Forks and Eau Claire have been unanimous in their praises of the excellence of the many attractions that will be seen here with the Ferari Bros. shows, and all make special mention of the clean, refined and moral atmosphere that surrounds each and every show presented.

Many Cars

"It requires twenty-eight seventy-foot cars to transport the show paraphernalia from city to city. The train carried by the Ferari Bros. is equal in size and carrying capacity of fifty-six ordinary cars. On Monday evening, next, everything will be in readiness for the big week. The shows will open Monday evening. All of the many show fronts will be placed and everything will be ready to open on the minute, and in an instant all the beautiful gilded, solid carved fronts will be a glittering, gazing blaze of electric and carbon lights. Then Janesville's big week will be started.

Chance to Shop

"The store windows promise to be an attraction alone worth of trouble to look over, and as the shows do not commence until 1 p. m. it gives visitors a chance to do their shopping before the show commences. The big feature show of the many and varied attractions that will be offered for the amusement of pleasure seekers will be the Ferari Bros.' trained wild animal exhibition, presenting 200 performing lions, tigers, leopards, hyenas, wolves, panthers, panthers, jaguars and byhybrids, four in number, and the only living specimens of this combination of animal breeding in the entire world, and are valued at $5,000 each. The combination of percentage is as follows: One-half lion, one-quarter leopard, one-quarter jaguar.

Free Sensations

"There will be five big free, sensational acts given every afternoon and evening, including the great "Samava," the Central America marvel, his first tour of the states, introducing the most original and the latest novelty in aerial achievements, "The Cloud Swing." Other free acts that will be seen twice daily next week will be "Cavana," the acknowledged peer of highwire performers, introducing tricks that are new, novel and that are unequalled in the history of wire accomplishments. The premier artiste, Mae Meeker, the queen of the aerial rings, is another of the big free acts that will be seen. Miss

Walter Kendall was in Chicago to day.

RUSSIA WILL PAY INDEMNITY

Summary of Causes of War.

1. Refusal of Russia to recognize the complete sovereignty of China over Manchuria.

2. Refusal of Russia to admit Japan's paramount interests in Korea.

3. Refusal of Russia to recognize the full commercial rights of other nations in Manchuria.

4. The dependence of Japan upon Korea as a market for her manufactured goods and for her supply of food.

5. Encroachment of Russia upon territory along the Yalu river.

DETAILS OF GREAT STRUGGLE

Japan Uniformly Successful in Land and Sea Engagements.

Japan severed her diplomatic relations with Russia Feb. 6, 1904, and three days later the Japanese fleet appeared off Port Arthur and by the use of torpedoes practically destroyed the battleships Czarevitch and Retvizan and the cruiser Pallada. On Chemulpo the same day the Russian cruiser Varyag and Korietz were destroyed.

At the heels of these events the armies of both countries invaded Korea and Secretary Hay, since dead, secured the promise of the powers that the integrity of China would be respected.

Within the next ten days the Yenisei, a Russian torpedo transport, was destroyed by an accidental explosion, and the czar called out 600,000 soldiers to repel the Japanese troops, which were invading Manchuria. Japanese troops were marching to the Yalu river to meet the Russians; the Russians, mistaking three of their own gunboats for the enemy's craft, destroyed them, and a second attack was made on Port Arthur, when two more Russian boats were destroyed.

Japanese Bombard Port Arthur.

Three weeks after the first gun was fired the Russians crossed the Yalu and had taken and held the towns of Wiju and Pinyang, and Gen. Alexieff had established a base at Harbin. Admiral Uriu of the Japanese attacked Vladivostok early in March, 1904. The attack was not effective. At the same time the Japanese appeared west of the Yalu near Neuchwang, and the Japanese vessels bombarded Port Arthur and Dabu.

The Russian fleet of torpedo boats attacked the Japanese March 10, but was repulsed with the loss of one vessel. March 24 the land forces met in their first conflict. The engagement was in northern Korea, and the Russians were defeated. In the middle of April Admiral Makarov with 600 men was drowned in an engagement at Port Arthur with the Japanese, when his ship, the Petrovaylof, was sunk by a Japanese mine. Grand Duke Cyril, the czar's cousin, narrowly escaped drowning.

Ten days later the Vladivostok squadron made a sortie and sank one Japanese transport and a number of the enemies' merchant vessels were taken.

First Great Battle on the Yalu.

The first great land engagement was May 1, 1904, when Gen. Kuroki, at the head of the Japanese army, crossed the Yalu and drove back the army under Gen. Zassalitch, compelling it to retreat to the Manchurian mountains. Several days later two of the Japanese boats were sunk. The Yoshino was rammed by a sister boat and the Hatsuo ran against a mine.

The battle of Nanshan Hill was fought May 28. The Japanese drove the enemy from the hill, but lost 5,000 men in doing it. Following this came the battle of Yafangau. Gen. Nodzu thrashed Gen. Stackelberg. The Russians lost 3,000 men and the Japanese 1,000.

A Russian force under Gen. Kondratovich was surprised by concealed artillery near Kai-chau June 19, and lost 1,200 men. The land campaign which finally resulted in the fall of Port Arthur was begun the first week in July under Kuroki's directions. On July 19, after a severe battle, he captured Kiaochung and drove the Russians north of the Chi river.

Ten Thousand Killed in Siege.

Four days later Gen. Kuropatkin was defeated at the battle of Tachikiao. The forces besieging Port Arthur attacked the outer defenses June 26 and were compelled to retire at the end of a three days' battle, in which the besieging army lost 10,000 men. July 30 and 31 the men under Kuroki defeated the Russians at Simtchung and drove them to Hatcheng. Several days later the Russians were again defeated and driven further north. Gen. Kuropatkin's army was then centering about Liaorong.

The Russian squadron at Port Arthur sought to join the Vladivostok squadron Aug. 10, but was driven back with the loss of Admiral Wilholt. Aug. 14 Admiral Kamikura met the Vladivostok squadron, sunk the Rurik and disabled the Rossia and the Gromov. Following came the battles at Liao-ying, when between Aug. 28 and Sept. 5 the Russians lost 17,000 men and were compelled to retreat toward Mukden.

Fall of Port Arthur Jan. 1.

Toward the latter part of November the Japanese captured 203-Meter Hill at Port Arthur and won a commanding position, and on New Year's day, 1905, after a siege of eight months, Port Arthur was surrendered by Gen. Stoeckel, who gave the city over to the czar.

After a ten days' fight, March 10, the Russians were compelled to evacuate Mukden, and to retreat northward. This caused Gen. Kuropatkin to be relieved of his command by order of the czar.

He was succeeded by Gen. Linekitch. Following this came one of the most dramatic events of the war. Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet, which had sailed half around the world from the Baltic sea to join the ships at Vladivostok, was virtually annihilated in the Sea of Japan May 27 and May 28 by the fleet under the Japanese Togo. Admiral Rojestvensky was wounded and taken prisoner.

Since the destruction of the fleet Gen. Linekitch and Field Marshal Oyama have been facing each other near Harbin. The Japanese strengthened their lines and made every preparation for the final crushing blow. There came the peace negotiations.

WITH THE SAGES.

No man or boy is ever the slightest good in this world unless he has ambition.—Lord Stanley.

The virtue of a man ought to be measured not by his extraordinary exertions, but by his everyday conduct.—Pascal.

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have already done.—Lougheed.

When death, the great reconciler, has come, it is never our tenderness that we repeat of, but our severity.—George Eliot.

To conquer our own fancies, our own lusts and our ambition in the sacred name of duty, this is to be truly brave and truly strong.—Charles Kingsley.

The everyday cares and duties which men call drudgery are the weights and counterpoises of the clock of time, giving its pendulum a true vibration, and its hands a regular motion.—Longfellow.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

A man has more principles, but a woman more conscience.

A girl of that kind has awful red hair unless she has money to make it seem auburn.

Every woman ought to have an allowance so she can tell her husband how much too small it is.

It takes a man of fifty to be as big a fool over women as he thinks a young one of twenty-five is.

A woman would be very happy over her husband going to church without making a row about it if it didn't make her so suspicious about what he was sure to be planning to do as an antidote.—New York Press.

QUIT DOING IT.

Thinking that all the good chances and opportunities are gone by.

Carping and criticizing: See the best rather than the worst in others.

Writing letters when the blood is hot, which you may regret later.

Thinking of yourself to the exclusion of everyone and everyone else.

Dreaming that you would be happier in some other place or circumstances.

Belittling those whom you envy because you feel that they are superior to yourself.

Dilating on your pains and aches and misfortunes to everyone who will listen to you.

Speculating as to what you would do in some one else's place, and do your best in your own.

Gazing idly into the future and dreaming about it instead of making the most of the present.

Longing for the good things that others have instead of going to work and earning them for yourself.

Looking for opportunities hundreds or thousands of miles away instead of right where you are.—Success.

STOCK PROTECTED FROM THE HUNTERS

Amendment to Game Law Makes Shooting in Pastures an Offense Punishable by Fine.

An amendment of the fish and game laws, copies of which have just been received by hunters in this locality, promises to work for the interests of the farmers who have heretofore been annoyed by people who were prone to turn their pastures and grain lands into hunting reserves. Heretofore no one is allowed, under the amended law, to hunt in enclosed fields without the permission of the proprietor or tenant. The purpose of the amendment is to protect stock which may be in the fields. A number of farmers in Rock and adjoining counties have suffered from the depredations of hunters during the past few years and not few head of stock have been killed through the carelessness of the upstarts.

The law amended is section 4565d of the statutes of 1898 and has to do with hunting on another's land in pastures. The following words have been added to follow the word "situate," "or any person who shall, without permission of the owner, hunt or shoot on the land enclosed by a fence and used as a pasture for stock," and is further amended by adding the word "other" after the word "any" to the end that the law may protect the owners of enclosed lands used as pasture against persons hunting or shooting thereon without the permission of the owners thereof, regardless of the notice required as to other lands, so that the section shall be amended to read as follows:

"Any person who shall enter into any growing or standing grain not his own with firearms or permit his dog to enter into any such grain without the permission of the owner or occupant, the land on which the grain is situated, or any person who shall, without permission of the owner, hunt or shoot on the premises of another enclosed by a fence and used as a pasture for stock, or shall hunt or shoot upon any other land of another after being notified not to hunt or shoot thereon, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5 or more than $10. Any owner or occupant of land may give notice provided for in this section by maintaining sign boards, at least one foot square upon at least every forty acres of the premises sought to be protected, in at least two conspicuous places or by giving personal, written or verbal notice."

After riding a few miles at a slow pace they came to the end of a road with a horizontal line at its head, extending east and west. As they turned to the right some object loomed in the fog ahead, and there came a sharp cry:

"Who goes there?"

"To the left," whispered Armstrong, turning his horse. Frances obeyed instantly, but the man in front fired his musket into the air and raised a shout, whereupon four others sprang from the dripping bushes, and two of them seized the reins of the startled horses.

"Resistance is useless," said the sol-

This conversation, with which there was no interference on the part of their captors, was brought to a conclusion by their arrival at the main road. Here a halt was called, and the bugle was sounded, again to be answered as before, from different directions. "Dismount," said the officer to Armstrong, whereupon the latter, without a word sprang to the ground. Against the next tree he protested, but his opposition was unavailing and indeed unheeded to. The officer gave the lady and the two horses in charge of a party of six

PRESS COMMENT.

More About Bonuses.
La Crosse Leader-Press: In a friendly argument with the Leader-Press on the advisability of giving bonuses to manufacturing companies seeking locations, the Milwaukee Free Press names one instance in which the bonus plan proved successful. The city of Schenectady, N. Y., sixteen years ago gave a bonus of $50,000 to the General Electric company, which located its plant there, has been there ever since, employs 8,000 hands and has made Schenectady one of the best cities in New York.

The Leader-Press did not deny that there might be individual cases by which a desirable manufacturing company could be won with a bonus. Some people even drew prizes in the Louisiana lottery. Instead it said "there may be rare cases where the bonus system has worked successfully" and the fact that the Free Press had to go as far as New York to find such a case furnishes additional proof of how rare they are. The position of the Leader-Press is not that there are no responsible companies seeking bonuses but that the system is wrong because it encourages wildcatting. It is unnecessary to experiment with bonuses to outside concerns because there is another and better way to accomplish the hoped for result. In La Crosse at least, and presumably in every city, there is a number of manufacturing companies which need only more capital to enable them to extend their business, employ more hands and become a permanent and growing power for the development of the town. They know the territory and the possibilities of their business. There are enough small manufacturing companies in La Crosse or which can be started here by local men to require all the idle capital La Crosse has and which do not ask gifts but are able to offer capitalists straightforward, money-making business propositions. They are the kind of companies which will best repay assistance.

Vindictive Paper Railroad.
Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The Green Bay, Oshkosh, Madison, and Southeastern railway seems to be having a great time cutting out the towns that refuse to pay it tribute. As first surveyed, the line was to pass through Fond du Lac, but after sizing up the possibilities of cash support in advance, this city was stricken off its map. Then Ripon fell after which Oshkosh, in spite of the fact that Oshkosh capitalists were interested, had a close call. Green Bay, however, was put on and its name given a place in the rather lengthy title, under which the proposed line was incorporated. Now Green Bay has failed to appear with the goods and that city has at once been consigned to oblivion, the promoters of the paper road having decided to project their line from Appleton Junction north through Shawano to Crandon. Other changes will doubtless be made from time to time as lack of appreciation on the part of the several towns becomes evident.

SOLD!

The large tract of land I have offered in Dunn County, North Dakota, as a part of the Stuart estate has been snapped up and the lucky purchaser stands to double his money in 12 months.

I have another tract which is offered as a part of the Stuart Estate, consisting of a 3760 acre improved Ranch in Stutsman County, North Dakota, which will be sold at a low price in order to close the estate. ☺ ☺ ☺ ☺ ☺ ☺

I will have full particulars with regard to terms and price in a few days.

The properties are not offered at their present value because quick sales must be made in order to make final settlement of the estate.

Lands near by are bringing fancy prices, and as investments the propositions are of the unusual sort. They must be taken quickly, if at all.

Investors or those interested should consult me at once.
